

Peak to Peak Art Camp

Grades: open to students of all ages, families are welcome

Dates:

Session 1: June 2 - June 6

Time: 1:00-3:00 PM

Cost: $100 per student/per session

Credits: .8 credits per session

Overview: This art course consists of drawing, painting, clay, and architecture. This will be an opportunity for students to follow whatever media they would like to try in a small class setting with individualized instruction. In the past, students have created cartoons, pottery, detailed drawings, block prints and architecture projects.

About the Instructor: Kim Saporito – Kim Saporito is a licensed architect who has taught at the University of Colorado, Cornell University, The Royal Academy of Fine Arts in Copenhagen, and Yale University. She has a degree in Fine Arts from Cornell University and a Masters in Architecture. Among her many accomplishments, she has had artwork juried in shows, has had students win a variety of awards, has founded a collegiate art and architecture program in Rome, and has been a member of our Peak to Peak staff for seven years.
