

Peak to Peak implements a differentiated professional development program designed to customize support for teachers and counselors individually as well as in cohorts, and to provide meaningful professional development with direct ties to student achievement and school-wide goals. Through the differentiated professional development program and the performance evaluation process, Peak to Peak seeks to empower teachers and counselors to be active agents in their own growth and development, and to promote high staff morale and job satisfaction while ensuring that all students are in the care of educational experts at the leading edge of their field.

School goals and student achievement inform:

- Personalized goals with differentiated support
- Commended state-approved induction program
- Supportive performance evaluation process
- Extensive leadership opportunities
- Beneficial external partnerships
- Productive K-12 collaboration

"I'm thankful to be at a school that values professional development for teachers who have a wide range of experience and content knowledge."

"I have the best co-workers and students that challenge me to learn more and be the best I can be. I love that we have the flexibility and autonomy as a charter to do things differently and find innovative solutions to the challenges facing educators and students."

"Peak to Peak offers a supportive community of caring, inquisitive, forward-thinking educators that care deeply about their students, colleagues, and school. You are encouraged to develop at your own pace, be where you are, and try out new ideas. I'm proud to be here."

"Applying to teach at Peak to Peak is one of the best decisions I've ever made in my educational career because I'm challenged to be a better teacher and person. Curated and relevant professional development opportunities change or evolve yearly which help teachers focus on personal and classroom goals."
